The Class of 1982 and the entire school are proud to dedicate this yearbook to Mrs. Jean Imboden and Mr. James Bonds.

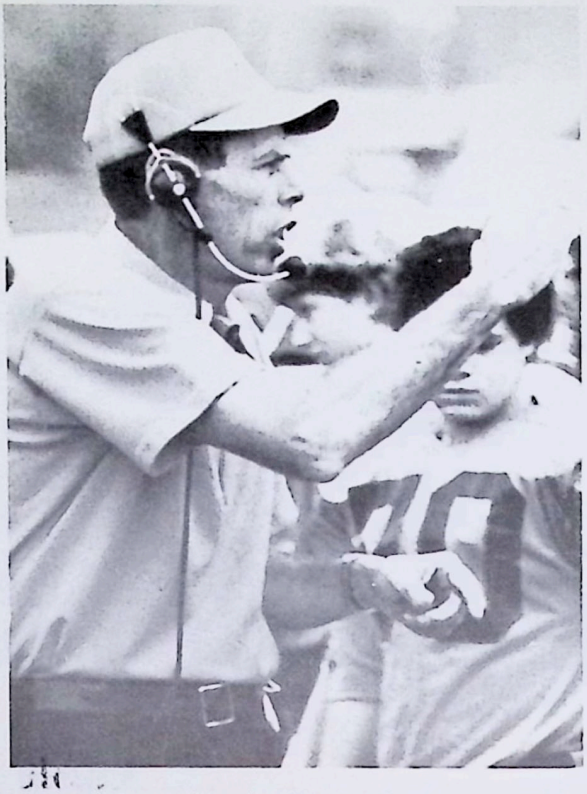
Mrs. Jean Imboden
1949-1982

Mrs. Imboden taught at the Lexington School for the Deaf for one year prior to coming to I.S.D. in 1949. Mrs. Imboden, the former Jean Coonen, is a native of Jacksonville, received the B.A. degree from MacMurray College in elementary education and an M.A. from Columbus Teachers College (Lexington) in New York City.

Mrs. Imboden has devoted many long hours toward the educational and social achievements of her pupils at the primary level. She has been a cooperative colleague and a good friend to both her peers and to her pupils.

Mrs. Imboden started the first Brownie Troop at I.S.D. and was troop sponsor for many years. In recent years she has been a faculty sponsor for the Elementary Creative Dramatics group. She is a member of many professional organizations.

Mrs. Imboden and her husband, Bill, hope to do some travelling and have some extra time to spend with their sons, Bill and Mark, who live in Jacksonville.



Mr. James Bonds
25 Years Head Football Coach

Mr. Bonds has coached his last football game for I.S.D. Since 1956 he has prepared our players and coached 199 games. We won 122.

The Year Book Staff joins in saluting Mr. Bonds for a job well done. Thanks, Coach!

As your time at I.S.D. draws to a close, we hope your memories are good ones. We hope in some ways to have contributed to your future success. For those of you going on to school, set your sights high; you are limited only by your own imagination. Those of you going directly to work, remember that a positive attitude assures success, a negative attitude guarantees failure.

THE TRANSITION PROGRAM is a special program geared to meet the needs of deaf students who have the potential to matriculate into the school's regular programming. This program with capable and dedicated staff provides a learning environment in school and in the dormitory. At the same time strives to reinforce positive behavior and motivation.

THE VOCATIONAL EMPHASIS PROGRAM is as its name implies, a special program which provides maximum vocational exposure and preparation for entrance into the world of work. In addition to classroom instruction in four areas, (Communication Skills, Independent Living Skills, Consumer Education and Vocational Information) the students get work experience and vocational training.

The Diagnostic and Prescriptive Program provides services for students between the ages of 6 and 15 who are intellectually average or above and need special individualized assistance in learning.

Students are referred to the Educational Clinical Services Director. A pre-staffing is conducted to review and define the student's problems and needs. Next, the student is given an audiological, psychological, and communication skills evaluation. This information is carefully reviewed by the entire Clinic staff and decisions are formulated regarding further in-depth evaluation of the student's basic learning skills. This includes evaluation of social skills, conceptual skills, language skills, perceptual-motor skills, sensory-motor skills, and gross-motor skills. The staff reviews this evaluation material and determines appropriate prescriptions for enhancing the student's learning.
